MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Training

SUBJECT : Weekly Report of School of Intelligence and World Affairs No. 43, 24 - 27 October 1972

1. Intelligence Production Course

The Intelligence Production class spent last week with the Information Science Training Staff at [] in a one week block on information science. This week was a success in getting all students to use the computer terminals and in helping them gain some confidence in their ability to communicate with computers and to get useful results. In their overall evaluation of the block, 11 of the 15 students said it was good. In response to the question of whether the week of instruction should be extended by three to five days, 11 students answered yes. Two of the three IPC Faculty members participated as students in the entire week, and the third sat in on more than half of the week. We feel that one week is sufficient to fulfill the objectives of the block, and that all that is needed is a little fine tuning.
